

Bed Bug Workshop

January 24, 2017 • 1:00 p.m. to 3:30 p.m.

Miami County Job and Family Services Building

2040 N. County Road 25A
Conference Room
Troy, Ohio 45373

The workshop will cover some myths about bed bugs, identification, protecting yourself, and various treatment options depending on the budget.

Dr. Jones will address how to handle infestations, clients, and what you can do to protect yourself and your home. A question and answer session will follow her presentation.

The workshop is open to the public including agency workers, local school employees, emergency response teams, home health agencies, medical office professionals, people who travel and anyone who would like information on how to handle this growing problem. flyer
